Contacts

Published: 11/12/2015 Modified: 17/1/2023

The Croatian National Bank devotes special attention to providing the fullest and most complete information possible to the domestic and international public on its goals, measures to attain them and the results of its activities. Through various information channels, the CNB provides regular and up-to-date information to the public on all important aspects of its actions.

A large number of citizens, enterprises, media representatives, government institutions, embassies and other entities make inquiries for information and data with the Croatian National Bank. Many secondary school pupils, students and domestic and foreign researchers inquire about professional literature. The information required concerns all CNB's areas of operation and it is available to all interested citizens and firms, with the exception of the information required to be kept as a business secret by the CNB pursuant to the Act on the Croatian National Bank, the Credit Institutions Act, the Official Statistics Act and other acts.

The Croatian National Bank consistently applies the provisions of the Law on the Right of Access to Information. In addition to direct provision of information, the information requested is provided by enabling the applicants to examine the relevant documents or by providing them with the copies of the documents containing the information requested, as well as in other ways, for example by referring the applicants to the source of the information.

The CNB commits effort to process information access requests in the shortest possible period, within the legally prescribed deadlines. The CNB collects no charges on the provision and submission of the information requested.

Following the adoption of especially important decisions on monetary policy and other central bank tasks, the CNB organises press conferences with journalists covering the finance and banking sector so as to provide them with detailed information on the changes made, enabling them to report them to the public as fully and clearly as possible.

CONFIDENTIAL PERSON UNDER THE WHISTLEBLOWER PROTECTION ACT

In accordance with the Whistleblower Protection Act and the Ordinance on the method of appointing a confidential person and the internal whistleblowing procedure, the Croatian National Bank enables the protection of whistleblowers, which includes the provision of available and reliable means of reporting irregularities/breaches.

The term "Breaches" means acts or omissions that:

- (i) are unlawful and relate to the Union acts and areas falling within the material scope referred to the Act; or
- (ii) defeat the object or the purpose of the rules in the Union acts and areas falling within the material scope referred to the Act;

"Reporting person" means a natural person who reports or publicly discloses information on breaches acquired in the context of his or her work-related activities;

"Work-related context" means current or past work activities in the public or private sector through which, irrespective of the nature of those activities, persons acquire information on breaches and within which those persons could suffer retaliation if they reported such information;

Reporting persons working in the private or public sector who acquired information on breaches in a work-related context including, at least, the following:

- persons having the status of worker, including civil servants;
- persons having self-employed status,
- shareholders and persons belonging to the administrative, management or supervisory body of an undertaking, including non-executive members, as well as volunteers and paid or unpaid trainees;

- any persons working under the supervision and direction of contractors, subcontractors and suppliers;
- any other participation in the ‘Work-related context’ within a legal entity in the private or public sector

Internal reporting means the oral or written communication of information on breaches/irregularities through internal reporting channels to the employer at which the reporting person works;

By means of the Form for reporting irregularities a reporting person may submit an internal report on breaches/irregularities to the employer's confidential person directly or by mail at the following e-mail address: povjerljiva.osoba@hnb.hr

Oral reporting shall be possible by telephone or through other voice messaging systems, and, upon request by the reporting person, by means of a physical meeting within a reasonable timeframe.

A report of irregularities/breaches shall comprise:

- the name of the Croatian National Bank as an employer at which the reporting person works;
- the name of the organisational unit of the Croatian National Bank, if the reporting person works at the Croatian National Bank;
- data on the reporting person (name and surname and personal identification number (OIB));
- data on the person and/or persons to whom the report relates;
- a short description of irregularities/breaches;
- the date of report submission.
