

Vicegovernors

Published: 12/7/2019 Modified: 10/11/2021

Ivana Jakir-Bajo was born on 15 March 1974 in Nürnberg. She graduated from the Faculty of Economics and Business in Zagreb in 1997 and obtained her Master's Degree from the Department of Organisation and Management of the same Faculty in 2012. From December 1998 to July 2020, Ms Jakir-Bajo worked in the Ministry of Finance, first in the Directorate for State Accounting and from 2016 in the State Treasury where she acted as Chief State Treasurer and National Authorising Officer. Until 2014 she was also the Chair of the OECD Regional Network of Central, Eastern and South-Eastern European Countries Senior Budget Officials (CESEE-SBO). In her work so far she participated in many professional trainings in renowned international institutions in the United States of America (Harvard University, John F. Kennedy School of Government), the Netherlands and Slovenia. She took part in the implementation of international projects in the area of public finance. She is the author and a co-author of a large number of professional and scientific papers published in the country and abroad on budget system, fiscal responsibility, performance measuring and budget accounting and also co-authored a number of books and manuals.

Pursuant to the decision of the Croatian Parliament, Ms Ivana Jakir-Bajo was appointed Vicegovernor of the Croatian National Bank on 1 July 2020.

Michael Faulend, PhD, was born on 25 May 1974 in Zagreb, where he graduated in 1997 from the Faculty of Economics and Business, Analysis Study Program, and in 2002 he received his Master's Degree at the postgraduate studies "International Economy". He got employed in the Croatian National Bank in October 1997 in the Research Department. In the period from 2001 to 2003 he was Assistant to the Executive Director of the IMF Dutch Constituency. After returning to the CNB he continued his work in the Research Department as advisor, and on 1 April 2004 he was appointed Executive Director of the International Affairs Area. He is the author of several scholarly papers on economic issues.

Pursuant to the decision of the Croatian Parliament, Michael Faulend was appointed Vicegovernor of the Croatian National Bank on 5 July 2013. He was reappointed for his second six-year term of office as vicegovernor on 12 July 2019.

Vicegovernor Faulend coordinates and manages the International Relations Area.

Bojan Fras was born in Zagreb on 4 January 1963. He graduated in 1988 from the Faculty of Law in Zagreb. In 1988 he started working as a legal trainee and in 1992 he became a licensed attorney. In 1995 he was a co-founder of "Žurić i partneri" law firm in Zagreb, where he remained a partner until appointment to the current position. During his career as a practicing lawyer he was engaged in legal counselling and representation in the areas of commercial law, investments, financing and banking as well as in commercial disputes, including international arbitration. He was the principal Croatian legal advisor on some of the most significant transactions and investment projects in Croatia, including those in telecom, energy and finance. He represented and advised a large number of leading international corporations and institutions and domestic companies and institutions.

He also acted as international legal advisor for bank privatization to a government of a country in the region and advised foreign and domestic banks, financial institutions and companies on their operations. In Croatia, derivative transactions, repo operations and other forms of financing. He was also active in legislative work.

He has spoken at conferences, seminars and panels in Croatia and abroad on the legal aspects of investments in Croatia, financial system, privatisation and mergers and acquisitions of Croatian companies, company law, project financing, local government financing and other legal issues.

Pursuant to the decision of the Croatian Parliament, Bojan Fras was appointed Vicegovernor of the Croatian National Bank on 5 July 2013. He was reappointed for his second six-year term of office as vicegovernor on 12 July 2019.

Vicegovernor Fras coordinates and manages the Legal Area and the Consumer Protection Monitoring Office.

Slavko Tešija was born in Ludbreg on 23 February 1954. He graduated from the Faculty of Foreign Trade Zagreb in 1981 and in 2006 he took his Master's degree in organisation and management from the Faculty of Economics and Business Zagreb. He took his first job working for Privredna banka and in 1983 he joined the Croatian National Bank as senior foreign exchange-monetary inspector. In 1994, he was appointed director of foreign exchange and credit and monetary inspection of banks and one year later, he was appointed director of the State Agency for Deposit Insurance and Bank Resolution. He returned to the Croatian National Bank in 1996, and from 1998 to 2014 he worked as director of the International Banking Department. In 1999, he was appointed representative of the Republic of Croatia to the Commission on Banking Technique and Practice (International Chamber of Commerce, ICC), Paris, the function he performed for three four-year terms of office. From 2014, he acted as chief advisor in the CNB's Support Services Area until 2017, when he was appointed authorised representative of the Republic of Croatia for the succession of financial assets and liabilities of the Former SFRY. He co-authored a large number of laws in the area of economics, and for the purposes of government institutions, as a judicial expert on finances, banking and foreign exchange operations and foreign trade, he gave expert opinions in judicial and arbitration disputes.

Pursuant to the decision of the Croatian Parliament, Slavko Tešija assumed office as Vicegovernor of the Croatian National Bank on 18 July 2018.

Vicegovernor Tešija coordinates and manages the Succession Issues Coordination Office and the Foreign Exchange Regulation Office.

Roman Šubić, PhD, was born in Zagreb on 25 January 1981. In 2003 he graduated from the Faculty of Economics and Business of the University of Zagreb with major in finance, where he also completed a Master's programme in finance and banking in 2009. In 2012, he received his PhD from the Faculty of Economics of the University of Osijek. From 2004 to the beginning of 2017, he worked in the Croatian National Bank, first in the area of market competition in the banking sector and later in the area of bank supervision and oversight. The major part of his professional experience stems from participation in bank examinations as well as from his role as the head of on-site examinations of credit institutions. During his career he has participated in numerous professional development programmes in internationally renowned financial institutions. From the beginning of 2017 until his appointment as Vicegovernor, he was assistant professor at the Catholic University of Croatia, where he still teaches several courses related to the area of his specialisation. He was the leader of a science and research project and has authored several scientific and professional papers.

Pursuant to the decision of the Croatian Parliament, Roman Šubić assumed office as Vicegovernor of the Croatian National Bank on 18 July 2018.

Vicegovernor Šubić coordinates and manages the Statistics Area and the Credit Institutions Resolution Office.