

Occasional publications

Published: 31/1/2015

Occasional publications of the Croatian National Bank comprise short scientific papers, scholarly papers and papers of informative character on the subjects of interest to the Bank, authored by the Bank's employees and associate contributors.

Occasional publications contain the views of the author which do not necessarily represent the views of the Croatian National Bank.

All publications are free and available for download in electronic form. They are published in Croatian and in English.
